Competitive Shooting Camp

Hoopology University is proud to present its Elite Competitive Shooting Camp.

This is an ELITE training session for players in the south metro area. What does this mean? This means that we are only inviting athletes that are serious about improving their game. It is an invitation only camp for players that have played on "A or B" travel teams for the 2016-17 basketball season. Each drill in the 90-minute shooting session will be done at game speed and all results for each athlete will be tracked.

Hoopology University has designed several shooting drills for this camp. Each athlete will be shown how to do each drill and our staff will assist each shooter to help them become more consistent. Any type of shot that a player might attempt in a game has been incorporated in to the drills we have designed. Shooting off the dribble, shooting off the pass, step back shots and pick and pop are just a few of the shooting drills that they will learn during this four-day camp. Each drill is timed to ensure that everything is done at game speed. Athletes will either record their scores, or times, for each drill to track improvement and compare to other high quality players in the south metro area.
